LAWSON'S CHARGES WITHOUT FOUNDATION

Belief Growing That New Resolution Is Needed for General Stock Market Probe.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, January 10. — The course of the committee was not announced, but there have been intimations that a majority felt the examination of Thomas W. Lawson had revealed nothing to warrant an investigation.

Some members content that if there is to be a general investigation of the New York Stock Exchange, and alleged operations of Government officials thereon, it should not be ordered on the Wood resolution, but on a new one, as the Wood resolution directs attention only to Lawson's allegations.

CLOSING IT UP

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, January 10.—No formal action was taken by the committee at its executive session. Members stated, however, that the Woods resolution probably would be adversely reported to the House.

FLATTENING OUT

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, January 10. — After another brief session today the House Rules Committee suspended public hearings on Representative Wood's resolution to investigate whether there was stock market leak on President Wilson's peace note. Many congressmen believe the committee will report against an investigation.

REPRESENTATIVE PARRETT WILL INTRODUCE BILL

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., January 10. — Representative Frank C. Parrett, of Fayette county, co-author of the Parrett-Whittemore law, declared unconstitutional by the Ohio Supreme Court yesterday announced today he would introduce a bill in the Lower House next week to cover all the points held unconstitutional in the Supreme Court decision.

"GUILTY" IS THE VERDICT

Young Farmer Must Answer for Murder of 17-year-old Girl.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Olney, Ill., January 10.—The jury in the trial of Roy Hinterliter, young farmer, for the murder of Elizabeth Ratcliffe, his 17-year-old sweetheart, returned a verdict of manslaughter early today, after having reported to the court three times for instruction during the early morning hours. The punishment may be from one year to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Hinterliter confessed on the witness stand that the girl's death occurred last July during an attempt at an illegal operation, but asserted she had used the surgical instruments supplied by him while he was not with her.

SENTENCE IMPOSED

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Olney, Ill., January 10. — The court sentenced Hinterliter to life imprisonment. The court overruled a motion for a new trial and also a motion for an arrest of judgment.

DEVELOPES AN ATTACK TO NORTH

Mackensen Troops Force Passage of Putna in Pursuit of Russians.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Field Marshal von Mackensen is rapidly developing his attack north of Fokshani, and already has succeeded in forcing a passage of the Putna, across which the Russians in southern Moldavia retreated after losing the Fokshani bridgehead positions.

At last accounts the Teutonic forces were only five miles from Pentzin, the capture of which would interfere seriously with the movements of Russian troops and supplies to the railway running northwest and virtually paralleling the Moldavia frontier line.

In battles of the past two days, the Teutonic armies have added some 1,450 prisoners to the 5,500 they took in the previous operations around Fokshani.

GERMAN CONSUL'S TRIAL NEAR END

By Associated Press Dispatch.
San Francisco, January 10. — The case of Franz Bopp, German Consul General in this city, and four of his attaches, or employees, charged with violation of United States neutrality, will be in the hands of the jury in the United States District Court today.

The prosecution has asked for no particular instructions, the defense, however, urging instruction for acquittal on technical grounds.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON RULES INVESTIGATES "LEAK" OF PEACE NOTE TO WALL STREET

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON RULES, INVESTIGATING "LEAK"

The preliminary investigation of the "leak" in connection with the Wilson peace note which is being conducted by the rules committee of the house was expected to bring forth sensational revelations. Democratic members of the committee were convinced that the testimony of the witnesses summoned to appear would determine whether there was a mysterious leak or whether the recent stock market break which preceded the White House announcement of the president's peace move was merely due to press reports anticipating official announcement.

If the latter explanation appears to cover the case it is probable that some of the majority members of the committee will take the attitude that there has been no mystery and that a further investigation will not be necessary to demonstrate that no blame attaches to officials who knew or might have known of the president's action before it was made public.

Among the witnesses are Thomas W. Lawson of Boston and Charles H. Sabin, Otto M. Kahn and Bernard M. Baruch of New York.

"I have come to Washington," Mr. Kahn said, "to repeat what I said in my telegram to Chairman Henry and to answer any questions which the committee cares to ask me. If any one was guilty of making money through a leak—and I trust there is nobody—I hope that he will be punished. The committee should make a thorough investigation."

Secretary of State Lansing and Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president both mentioned in connection with the leak, occupied conspicuous places at the hearing.

Members of the rules committee investigating the leak are shown in the photograph. They are Representatives Chipfield of Illinois, Garrett of Tennessee, Foster of Illinois, Cantrill of Kentucky, Harrison of Mississippi, Campbell of Kansas, Lenroot of Wisconsin and Henry of Texas, chairman. Mr. Henry is the fifth man from the left.

SEARCH FOR HARRY THAW

Officers Armed With Warrant Unable to Locate "Eccentric" Criminal.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Pittsburg, January 10. — Harry K. Thaw, indicted in New York yesterday for kidnapping and assault of Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City, was believed early today to be at the Thaw home in Beechwood Boulevard, this city.

Members of the Thaw family would not say whether he arrived last night or early today, and refused to answer all questions as to the probable length of his stay.

All telephone inquiries at the Thaw home were investigated and no visitors were admitted, which tended to confirm the belief that Thaw had arrived from Washington sometime during the night.

The demands in brief follow:
That they receive 22 1/2 cents a gallon for milk from the date of agreement until April 15; that from April 15 to October 1 they receive 20 cents a gallon; that thereafter, during the fall and winter, they receive 22 1/2 cents; that there be no increase in the retail price of milk to consumers.

1600 HEAR DR. BROMLEY LAST NIGHT

Tabernacle Meetings Are Growing in Interest With Each Sermon—Evangelist Makes Striking Comparisons in Driving Home Reasons Why People Should Live Right.

"Who art thou that repiest against God?" was the text taken by Dr. Bromley in preaching to a congregation of over sixteen hundred people at the Tabernacle Tuesday night. With over two hundred and fifty business and professional girls present as special guests of the meeting the Evangelist made one of the most forceful pleas that has ever been made to the people of Washington to lead Christian lives.

Prayer was offered by Rev. C. E. Groves and Miss Josse Leavell rendered a beautiful solo "The Day is Ended." Mrs. Wert Shoop and Miss Mazie Keester accompanied her on the piano and violin.

"Man is the creation of God," said Dr. Bromley, "and his attitude toward his Creator should be one of awe. The laws of God should be obeyed without question, not only because man owes his creation to God but because every law of God is of distinctive benefit to humanity."

"The most unreasonable thing in the world is for a man to be a sinner and the most unreasonable thing a sinner can do is to offer excuses for not being right with God. It is a reflection upon his wisdom and good sense, Jesus said: 'Inasmuch as ye do it unto the least of these, ye do it unto me,' and every time that a sinner refuses and excuses his attitude toward God he is refusing and excusing himself to Jesus. The Devil is opposed to your salvation and every excuse that you offer for not being a Christian is pleasant to him. You ask me whether I believe in a Devil? I always have believed in a Devil, but if I never have before I would certainly be convinced since I have seen how he is doing business in Washington Court House."

"There is a man who can't become a Christian because he can't give up drinking and cussing. He has some particular business that won't permit him to live a Christian life. He objects to certain professing Christians who are not living as good a life as he does. These things are the Devil's own suggestions. He never shows his cloven hoof. He never lifts his cap from his head to show the horns growing there. But his power comes thru the use of suggestion and insinuation. Through the use of right things in the wrong way, to the telling of the things that have an element of truth in them yet are absolutely false when taken as a whole. The Devil gets mighty interested in you when you think of exchanging his life for the Christian life."

You say you do not want to become a Christian? Because you had made a mistake once and don't want to do it again. A baby knows better than that. If they didn't they would never learn to walk. You say that you are likely to make a mock of it if you renew your faith a second time but any move that you make if it is good and right and holy and pure will never become a mock. The man who never made a mistake is in the graveyard.

"You say you have no time to take up the question of your soul salvation. If you have no time to give to a religious campaign of this kind, Mr. Business Man, let me tell you that the time you will spend in getting right with God is the best time that you ever spent in your life. Our lives should not be spent in simply making dollars and counting them. Wife, if you have a husband who hasn't time to become saved you had better get interested in him for the time is coming when his ability to take interest in such matters will become atrophied."

"Is it reasonable to say that a child should not take time to learn the alphabet because he has something more important in his education; or that the workman should go without food because he has too much work to do."

"You say, 'Dr. Bromley, I am a young man; I have plenty of time.' You can get your life insured for a good many years but what company will guarantee you absolutely that you will live over night. And if your idea of religion is simply something to take before you die you had better change your idea. I have seen good men die with the peace that standeth all understanding upon their faces. I have seen sinners die with the awful questioning horror upon theirs. But if some of you men knew you would live until ninety years old you would wait until you were eighty-nine before you would become interested in your salvation. A death-bed repentance is a mighty dubious thing."

"You say that I would become a Christian but there is so much that I would have to give up. Are your sins such a valuable treasure as this? Why it is just as logical for a sick man to say, 'I would like to get well if I didn't have to give up my smallpox,' or for the boy to say, 'I would like to take a bath and be clean if it wasn't for getting rid of the dirt on me.'"

"You say you have your doubts about some things in the Bible. Well there are some things you haven't any doubt about that are in the Bible."

Lay hold on these things. They are sufficient for the time. You say that you can't forgive, that your disposition will not allow you to become a Christian. If your friend has done a misdeed to you, sin has caused him to do this, and if you do not forgive him sin causes you to do that. Get away from sin itself and then you will be able to forgive. You say that there are some professional Christians who set the wrong example and you don't care to be mixed in with them. Your mind will be changed a good deal and you will see things differently if you become religious. If you come into the church and seat yourself in the back because you do not want to mix with some of the people. You know, folks, if this tabernacle was three miles long there would be a lot of men who would go out in the country to get a seat.

"And now I come to the final and universal excuse. 'I'm afraid I can't hold out faithful.' I meet members of that family everywhere I go. Get something original. If I should slip on a banana peel tonight and fall on the street you would certainly think me a fool if I didn't get up. And I believe I would get up if I fell thirteen times."

In closing Dr. Bromley said: "When you become a Christian God doesn't simply tell you to go ahead and take care of yourself; He reaches out his hand and takes yours and says 'now come and go where I go and you need have no fear.'"

Dramatization of his closing words added to their force.

Interest in the meetings is increasing with each sermon.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Gladys Ditzell spoke interestingly to an audience of some 250 persons who manifested deep interest in her earnest appeal.

SUCCESS ATTENDS BUSINESS LUNCHEON

The first of a series of luncheons for professional and business women of the city, in connection with the Bromley Evangelistic campaign was most auspiciously launched in the basement dining room of Grace M. E. Church, Tuesday night.

It was the first gathering of the kind ever attempted in this city and it proved a big success, with pleasurable social features lending themselves to the deeper underlying purposes of inspiration to higher ideals, as well as the "get together" idea which is now prevalent and has in it immense possibilities for mutual benefit.

It was also specially given to afford opportunity to meet Miss Ditzell, the attractive youngwoman in charge of the young people's work of the campaign.

Church women of the city had the luncheon in charge with Miss Lina Willis, chairman and Miss Mary Robinson secretary of a special committee to assist Miss Ditzell.

The reception committee was composed of Mesdames Wm. Boynton Gage, Austin F. Hopkins; Charles Lewis; Carrie B. Willis; D. H. Rowe, H. L. Spray, Misses Mabel Briggs, Ella Hess, Mazie Rowe, Alta Sprenger, giving cordial welcome to the young women, the evening's guests.

While the guests gathered Miss Reid, pianist, and Glenn Boots, drums, furnished delightful music.

Two hundred and sixty plates were served—the luncheon a very appetizing one, consisting of baked ham, creamed potatoes bread and butter, sandwiches, pickle, jelly, cake and coffee.

Mrs. J. F. Dennis was chairman of the luncheon committee, Miss Lina Willis assisted by Mesdames J. W. Hughey, Horace Ireland, W. E. Ireland, M. O. Ireland, Chas. Campbell, Scott Hopkins, Wm. Bishop, Chas. A. Reid, Jess Feagin, Misses Flora Allen, Emma Jackson, Mary Craig.

After the supper, with its flow of good feeling and fun, stimulated by Miss Ditzell's breezy suggestions, the guests enjoyed a duet, "Beware She is Fooling Thee," sung with much expression by Prof. Myers and Prof. Harris with Miss Ditzell at the organ.

Miss Ditzell made a little talk which was listened to with interest and appreciation.

She urged that every girl give to her work and to her employers the best that is in her and pointed out the sure return in manifold ways which comes from such loyalty and efficiency. She closed with a fervent plea that her hearers take Christ into their lives and to learn the value and uplift of the Christian life.

It was enthusiastically voted to hold these luncheons every Tuesday evening and afterwards to attend the Tabernacle meetings in a body. The long procession of women which marched to the tabernacle and were seated in a body, was quite imposing.

AUTOS CRASH ON N. NORTH STREET

As result of one machine skidding, Tuesday evening about dusk, two large touring cars each lost a wheel and suffered other damages when they crashed at the intersection of North and Market streets.

Willie Brownell was driving one machine and B. A. Arbogast, of Bookwalter the other.

The former applied the brake as he neared crossing and saw that such action was necessary to prevent striking another machine, but when the brake was set the machine skidded and crashed into the Arbogast car, crushing into the curb and smashing the right rear wheel, besides damaging the other side of the machine.

The Brownell car lost a right front wheel and was otherwise damaged. No one was injured. Mr. Brownell paid Mr. Arbogast for the damages to the car.

Be it resolved by the Stockholders of the Fayette County Bank, assembled at their regular annual meeting Tuesday, January 9th, 1917, at 2 o'clock p. m.

The we bow with sorrow to the Divine Decree, which calls our beloved president, William Worthington, from active service to this bank;

That in his death we recognize the loss of valuable and unselfish service to this organization; realizing that it was through his personal efforts and wise business judgment that this bank was founded, and that his directing influence and lofty business ideals have developed a splendid banking organization, which is not only referred to as one of his highest business accomplishments, but the pride of its patrons and stockholders as well.

That we keenly feel a personal grief in the loss of his association and presence in the conduct of the affairs of the bank; and that the business life of the city and county general sustains and suffers loss in his seeming, untimely death while in the vigor of his business career.

That we extend to his family our deepest sympathy at this moment of their greatest sorrow; and that in consideration of the high respect in which we hold his former relations to this bank, and in honor of his memory and former service thereto, we adjourn the further business of this stockholders' meeting, until Tuesday January 23rd, 1917, at 2 p. m. for the election of a board of directors for the ensuing year.

A "Dry" Declaration

No speech made by Ex-Governor Willis during his two years as chief executive of the state won for him the favorable comment which was generously extended by the public at the conclusion of his last public address.

Governor Willis has during his term of public service deserved, on his record, to be classed among the most artful of the many "artful dodgers" in politics.

Monday, however, the retiring chief executive of the state and while he had yet only about one hundred and twenty second to serve in that capacity surprised everybody by boldly declaring that he would henceforth be found battling in the open for state wide prohibition.

In substance the retiring executive stated that his distinguished predecessor and successor had endeavored to drive the saloon and the liquor interests out of politics and both had failed. Now he proposed to try to drive them out of politics by driving the liquor traffic out of the state.

The statement was the most emphatic of any made by the retiring Governor since he has been in politics and the complimentary mention it received should be an encouragement to all public men to come out "flatfooted" on these questions of great public concern.

Just why so many politicians and so many public officials think their salvation depends on dodging public questions and avoiding taking sides, is a mystery.

Ex-Governor Willis was more popular after he had declared himself than he was at any time during his campaign.

Stretch Out Your Life

"Are you interested in adding fifteen years to your life?" asks Charles Henry Lerrigo, M. D. in a recent magazine article.

Of course we are interested, not only in adding fifteen years but in adding ten or five or one or even six months. Every normal person even under trying conditions, would eagerly welcome any stretching out of the span of life.

But the wonder of it is that with all this desire and with all the knowledge of present day instruction in proper caring for the health, so many carelessly refuse to heed warnings, just as dependable as the danger signal of a railroad, and which if given attention would procure the added years we all want.

There have been too many investigations made public, too many statistics given out; too many figures based on that stubborn commodity known as fact, to allow people to claim ignorance. Occasionally the danger signals of pain or at least disturbance are not acted upon from secret fear of the finding, but generally due to pure carelessness.

The startling figures have been given out that in examinations passed upon a couple of thousand young men and women in active work at the best age of life and themselves assured of perfect health, only sixty-three were absolutely sound. In many cases the damage to the body was slight, but discovering these "little things" and giving them prompt attention is the best means of preventing degenerative disease. The illustration of the wise owner on an automobile, who frequently has his car over hauled in order to correct a small defect which might ruin a valuable machine if left longer, is most apt.

It is not pessimism; it is wisdom to build up the natural defenses of the body, not alone for added years, but also for the increased capability which comes with perfect health.

Finish It Right

The member of the congressional committee, investigating the rumors of a leak of information regarding the issuance of President Wilson's peace note, will do themselves, the great legislative body of which they are members and the American people whose government has been assailed, a grave injustice if they do not go to the bottom of the whole unsavory affair.

It is very doubtful if there ever was any real foundation for the hue and cry of the stock market gamblers and it is equally doubtful if some congressmen did not blunder seriously when they took cognizance of the rumors and launched an investigation.

Mr. Lawson who has been so liberal and emphatic with his charges seems, like some of the other prominent actors in the affair to be simmering down his statements to "hear say" evidence.

Having begun an investigation the committee must go clear through and punish those guilty of precipitating the sensation if the charges are found to be groundless or if there was a breach of duty by some member of the official family the guilty one should be driven, in disgrace from the public service.

It is time that the villanous slander of public officials should be stopped. Men who make charges against officials should be compelled to substantiate them or be severely punished.

Men should be taught that something more than rumor is necessary to disgrace public officials. Lawson should be made to make full disclosures of all information he has in his possession.

Poetry For Today

"MOTHER"

It's not that I'm lonely while serving my time;
Nor because I must worry, while paying my crime
But always I'm saddest as evening draws near;
For I think, then, of mother—whom I love so dear.

It's not that I'm longing for pleasures to come,
That brings me my sadness, when the dear day is done.
Nor of self am I thinking for of self I've no fear;
But my thoughts are of mother—whom I love so dear.

It's not that I'm missing the pleasures of life;
For I know them as folly, which lead unto strife
But I'm thinking profoundly, and oh, so sincere;
Of a sweet, patient mother—whom I love so dear

Mr. Eli Craig reached his eighty-fourth birthday today, in such honor, health and happiness as rarely falls to the human lot.

Each year this natal event is made an occasion of rejoicing in the Craig Bros. store, of which he was one of the founders and which, after many years of active business enterprise, still finds him daily at his desk.

Members of the firm and employees were alike wearing shell pink carnations in his honor.

"FUTURE DEPENDS ON YOU," BROMLEY TELLS STUDENTS

In the high school Wednesday morning Dr. Bromley delivered a lecture on "Optimism" to the pupils. The evangelist took the entire chapel hour and the lecture was very much appreciated by the pupils.

Miss Gladys Ditzell of the party had charge of the devotional exercises and Prof. Harris rendered Mendelssohn's Salutatest.

"This is the most wonderful nation on the globe" said the evangelist in opening his address. "In territory we are five times larger than several of the European nations. In natural resource, we could be blockaded completely and yet live comfortably.

"The high prices of many articles lately is entirely uncalled for and prices were simply boosted by the greed of monopolies.

"The system of our government is remarkable also. It does seem, however, a paradox, that we elect a president and a congress of a conflicting belief, but, that is on account of our ignorance and not a fault of the government. Education will do away with all of that.

"We have good schools in Berlin and it has become a fad to go to Berlin and Heidelberg to finish our educations, but, it is not necessary at all. We have good institutions in our own country.

"The future of this government depends upon you. We live in a wonderful world and this is a remarkable age.

"We should remember that life is limited and one of the problems in our short life is how to succeed. There is a way to win out and, let's find that way. There are a number of elements that enter into success.

"Get a proper valuation of yourself. You are a part of the universe. Take care of your bodies. The boy who smokes cigarettes will be handicapped. Get the proper amount of sleep and rest and the right elements of food. Place a value on your mind. Seek after the truth.

"Be ambitious. I am amazed at the lack of ambitious these days among the young people of the land. Make up your mind finally to be something and do something.

"Concentrate your mind on your studies. Live ahead of yourself.

"Have some pushability about yourself. Be a self propelled conveyance. Real life means real work. Success is a process and is not made suddenly.

"Have some sensible optimism. Be cool headed. Face the problems of life like a man."

ELECTION OF OFFICERS CLOSES THE INSTITUTE

Closing an institute pronounced one of the best in years, an excellent program was presented Tuesday afternoon at the Bloomingburg Farmers' Institute.

Mrs. Marie Thomas, assisted by Miss Dick, the extension school of agriculture, discussed "The Field of Home Economics."

Mr. S. W. Burlingame talked on "Cement and its use," and Mr. Chas. Ritzer made an unusually good talk in opening the discussion.

Robert Kinkead sang a solo; Raymond Scott, Miss Morris accompanist, played a violin solo.

The hearty singing of "America" by the large crowd which filled the church concluded the session.

During the afternoon the following officers were elected for the coming year: R. G. Jefferson, president; M. L. Dickey, vice president; A. O. Riley, secretary; H. A. Pinkerton, treasurer. Executive committee: J. E. Hopkins, L. W. Heinlein, Albert Haines.

MRS. D. H. ROWE'S S. S. CLASS.

All members of Mrs. D. H. Rowe's class of Grace M. E. church are requested to meet at the church Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, to attend the tabernacle meeting in a body.

WRITES OF LIFE ON THE BORDER

Mrs. O. E. Hardway, Who Is Now With Captain Hardway at El Paso, Writes Interestingly of Border Life.

Mrs. E. C. McCoy, residing south of this city, is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. O. E. Hardway, which describes in interesting manner the life and conditions on the Mexican border. She writes:

"Dear Eva: "I am employing my time this afternoon in letter writing. I was glad to hear from you. I am enjoying myself fine; this country is beautiful to look at; can see the mountains over in Mexico. El Paso has a population of 70,000 with that many soldiers. El Paso means 'the pass.' The original name was Paso Del Norte (The pass to the north). Don't know when the boys will be at home.

Sunday Elmer hired a machine and we went to the international bridge, that crosses the Rio Grande over to Juarez. Before you get to the bridge is a thickly settled part of El Paso. of Mexicans. There were merry-go-rounds, stores open, places of amusement, hammers of the blacksmith heard. Sunday is a day set aside for a good time (I would call it a street fair) I want to cross the river before long into Mexico and visit Juarez. We went from the bridge down the valley of the Rio Grande which is irrigated and looked a little like home land.

"We went fifteen miles down the river to a little town named Ysleta, a typical Mexican town; the same was going on there. The houses were 'dobe, a mixture of mud and straw. They say some are well furnished inside; but I have found out that the people here are not as well fixed in their homes as we are at home. We visited a Catholic church 323 years old. It was furnished nice inside. There were several women there worshipping when we went in. They wore black scarfs over their heads and I notice the most of them hang to the bottom of their dresses. Most all the Mexican women wear these. All I have seen are black—generally of a thin material. Believe the people here dress better than at home.

"There is a Mexican school across the street and just below us is the Consulado, or Council for Mexicans, also down the street a little way is St. Joseph School for girls and a Synagogue. Would like to visit it. On the same street is the Masonic Temple. Want to visit it by going to the Eastern Star. We are close to the center of town. The camp is 40 minutes' ride out. Elmer has so far spent evenings with us. I visited the camp Xmas day and ate turkey with them on the border. There was a terrible sand storm that day. I also visited there on New Years, such a beautiful day. The first New Years I ever saw like that. A bright, clear, still, sunny and warm day. Was to a reception out there on that day for the Fourth Ohio. Met several ladies from Ohio.

As ever your friend, MRS. O. E. HARDWAY.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Mrs. Charles Appleby, nee Lorie Hughey, teacher of Physical Culture in the public schools of this city for a number of years, is now taking an active part in the club life of her present home, Fayetteville, Ark.

Mrs. Appleby is president of the Twentieth Century Club of that city and social columns of the Fayetteville Democrat record a charming New Year's reception under her regime, given in honor of the new "first lady," Mrs. C. H. Brough, wife of Governor-elect Charles Hillman Brough.

During her residence here Mrs. Appleby was a decided addition to Washington's club and social circles and is well fitted to take the helm in literary progressiveness.

After the intermission of the holiday season the Browning Club women doubly enjoyed resuming their regular work at the Federated Club rooms Tuesday night.

The president, Mrs. Haldee Van Winkle Coffman, made two announcements of general interest.

As a result of the recent entertainment given by this club, the Browning women have taken a fifty dollar scholarship in the Lincoln Memorial University and added $10 to the treasury of the Welfare Association.

The returns from the sale of Red Cross seals are not yet fully in, but the sum total will be around $200, of which 80 per cent goes to our own city.

Mrs. Marie Persinger, chairman of the history department, assumed the chair for the program.

There were two papers, Mrs. Josephine Kerr treated of "The Textile Industry," in a splendid paper of large information. The writer sketched the development of this industry through the different ages, the age of fear, the pastoral age, the age of agricultural and commercialism. Begun in primitive times with simple home weaving this industry has grown to mammoth proportions and opens up a subject of vast interest.

Mrs. Eldora Stinson sketched, most entertainingly, a trip to Mammoth Cave, with experiences both amusing and exciting; the wonderful beauty and unusualness of scenic wonder. The old hotel, a landmark for a hundred and fifty years, was burned within the last two years.

Mrs. Robert Howat filled the role of hostess to the Cecilians Tuesday afternoon.

The club women finished their study of American drama with "The Sunken Bell," and took up English drama.

Oscar Wilde's play, "Lady Windermere's Fan," and "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray—Pinner—furnished delightful material for the afternoon.

The hostess served a most tempting luncheon.

Tuesday afternoon's meeting of the Cecilian Club was a business session with Miss Gardner presiding.

After the reading of the constitution and bylaws and the Treasurer's report, the election of officers was held.

The officers for 1917 were Miss Edith Gardner, President; Mrs. Netta Ballard, Vice President; Miss Mabel Briggs, Secretary; Miss Del Lannum, Treasurer.

Miss Amy Kler acted as hostess of the Loyal Daughters of the Church of Christ, in their regular business session Tuesday evening.

There were twenty-five present and after the transaction of the necessary business, enjoyed a social hour and dainty luncheon.

FARMERS HOTEL IS CUT IN TWAIN

The old Farmers' Hotel on Water street which was featured in the court action between the B. & O. Railroad and P. J. Burke, because the new transfer track across the Burke property would necessitate the removal of the structure, or at least a portion of it, has been cut in twain and the rear portion moved to a point near the bridge on West Temple street, while the remainder of the old land mark is left upon its foundation facing Water street.

The work of cutting the structure in twain and moving the rear portion to make way for the transfer track has proven more expensive than at first planned, and much labor and expense will yet be necessary to make both structures habitable.

The work of extending the transfer track is moving slowly, and will be completed sometime this month, connecting with the C. H. & D. opposite the ice factory, and necessitating the removal of the small cottage in the corner south of the old hotel.

The switch at the ice plant will connect direct with the transfer track instead of the C. H. & D. track. Most of the transfer track will be on trestlework.

NEARLY 3,000 ACRES OF SWEET CORN WILL BE GROWN IN FAYETTE

The coming year will witness the production of between 2500 and 3000 acres of sweet corn in this county, and some 300 acres of peas.

The acreage of sweet corn will be divided almost equally between the Fayette Canning Company and the Sears & Nichols Canning plant in this city. The peas will be canned exclusively by the Sears & Nichols plant.

The price to be paid per ton for the green corn is approximately $10, and the average production of corn per acre during favorable seasons is three to five tons, and the tonnage which will be produced for the two plants, the season being favorable, will be in excess of 10,000 tons.

Contracts for growing the corn are now being made and will be completed within the next two or three months.

GREAT RAT HUNT IS ORGANIZED IN UPPER FAYETTE

Memorable Hunt of Years Ago
Recalled When 16,000 Rodents
Were Killed—160 Men Form
Army to Wage Relentless War —Losers to Pay for Banquet.

Modern "Pied Pipers" are busy in the county, and are confident that when they get through killing rats they will have more to their credit than followed the Pied Piper into the river Weser.

At a meeting held in Madison Mills Tuesday, 120 men organized themselves into two divisions for the purpose of waging relentless war on the common rat until January 30th, when a great banquet will be spread and the losing team will foot the bill.

For sometime the rat pest in Madison and Paint townships, and in fact all parts of the county, has been on the increase, and the farmers of Paint and Madison decided that they would make a general drive to eradicate the pest from the community—hence the meeting.

Mayor O. W. Creath, of Bloomingburg, was made chairman of the army of rat hunters, Tolen Brown, former County Recorder, was made secretary and Frank Dorn treasurer, while the two sturdy captains are Col. Maynard Eckle, well known auctioneer, and E. L. (Curly) King. The two official tailsmen or auditors who will count the rat tails each week, are "Bat" Vance and Vernoldo Crow, and they are pledged to secrecy so that neither side may know how many the other side has to its credit.

The men are to start out immediately and have full authority to beg, borrow, kill (or steal) any rat that has a tail.

And they expect to find thousands of the rodents—rats of all kinds—

"Great rats, small rats, lean rats, brawny rats,

Brown rats, black rats, gray rats, tawny rats,

Grave old plodders, gay young frisk-ers,

Fathers, mothers, uncles, cousins,

Cocking tails and pricking whiskers; Families by tens and dozens,

Brothers, sisters, husbands, wives—Will be followed for their lives"

At a rat killing held in the same community some sixteen years ago, 16,000 rodents were slaughtered and the pest had never since increased so alarmingly as during the past year.

It is expected that the big hunt organized in northern Fayette will be an incentive to the farmers of other communities, and that other hunts will be organized accordingly.

Some authorities figure that each rat costs the farmers at least $1 each in the amount of damage done, while other authorities insist $1 per rat per year is a moderate estimate. Based on the former figures the hunt is expected to mean $10,000 to $25,000 to farmers in the two townships.

BELGIANS ARE BUSY ON THE FRONT LINES

With the Belgian Army. (Correspondent of Associated Press)—The pride of the Belgian troops in holding back the Germans from further encroachment on Belgian soil is observable immediately one enters the sector occupied by King Albert's troops. Determination to prevent any advance by the Germans and the will to push back the invaders when the time is ripe are evident everywhere.

The Associated Press correspondent has visited the Belgian advanced lines at a point between Dixmude and Bosinghe, where, for the moment, there is still fighting. Water under foot, thick mists making the atmosphere heavy and preventing observation, and cold rain falling in a continuous penetrating downpour make action almost impossible.

Out in the front lines, after a long tramp over board walks across sodden fields and irrigation canals, the correspondent saw the Belgian soldiers keeping their constant vigil, clothed in heavy woolen coverings and oil cloth raincoats and high rubber boots. Here and there a sentinel stood looking out over the mile or so of water covering the space between the Belgian and the German lines, dimly visible in the distance. No barbed wire entanglements are possible here their place is taken by seawater, which, by cutting the dikes, has been permitted to flow where it will; although it renders the land uncultivable for twenty years.

The crack of an occasional rifle-shot, fired from one side or the other when a guard imagines some movement in the opposing line, was dulled by the heavy air, and sometimes near but generally far off was heard the roar of an aerial torpedo.

It is impossible at any point of the Belgian front to excavate a trench, for each spadeful of earth taken out is at once replaced by a hole full of water. In place of trenches the only way to form a protective line for the infantry occupying the front lines is to construct shelters of sand-filled canvas sacks and this has been developed into an art by the Belgian troopers. For four days at a stretch the same men remain without relief at the front under these distressing conditions, but there is no complaint for the men are mostly hardy peasants or laboring men who have had to combat the Belgian climate all their lives. Hardships which for troops from other and drier districts would prove insupportable, are borne by them with cheerfulness.

King Albert, who lives near the actual fighting line, pays an almost daily visit to some part of the front. The Queen, too, remains on Belgian soil, and when not engaged in hospital work is often seen walking along among the soldiers when they are enjoying a short respite from active service.

Everywhere there are evidences of America's aid to the Belgian wounded and to refugees from the interior who insist on remaining on the small portion of Belgian soil still left to them. American ambulances are often seen along the routes.

WEAK, AILING CHILD

Made Strong by Delicious Vinol.
Lakeport, N. H.—"Our little girl 8 years of age was in a debilitated, run-down condition and had a stubborn cough so she was weak and ailing all the time. Nothing helped her until we tried Vinol. Then her appetite increased and she is strong and well, and I wish other parents of weak, delicate children would try Vinol."—GEO. A. COLLINS.

This is because Vinol contains the beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones, and glycerophosphates which a weak and run-down system needs. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Vopicka's Acts as Minister To Roumania Are Criticised

MINISTER VOPICKA, WIFE AND DAUGHTER

American Minister Charles J. Vopicka will be taken away from Bucharest, as the German government asks, although he still will be the accredited American minister to Roumanian, Serbia and Bulgaria, according to Washington reports. The German government has cited incidents in which it alleges he was unneutral toward the central powers and favored Roumania. With the Dutch minister, Mr. Vopicka undertook protection of entente subjects when the German armies took the Roumanian capital. Investigation probably will be ordered by the state department.

The department has not heard from the minister directly since three days before the fall of Bucharest, when he signified his intention of remaining at his post there and sending the secretary of legation to accompany the Roumanian government to its new capital at Jassy. Minister Vopicka, a Chicago man, was born in Bohemia and was elected for his post by former Secretary Bryan. He is accused of committing diplomatic blunders at Bucharest, one story asserting that he once telephoned to the Queen of Roumania insisting upon her answering the call in person and then addressing her with "Good morning, Queen." Photo shows Mr. Vopicka with his wife and daughter.

MANY MASCOTS ARE WITH THE TROOPS

(Associated Press Cable.)
London, January 10.—The London Zoo has been augmented by many warship and regimental mascots. The pets were left there by troops from the Dominions and will remain until the latter return home from the fighting zones.

They range from a monkey, which survived the battle of Heligoland and the Dogger Bank, to bears from Canada, which await the return of their battalions from the front.

Other mascots which will adorn the peace procession, if they live long enough, are deer, unsuited to trench life. The bears, which hail from the Rocky Mountains are housed on the Mappin Terrace, and are very much at home.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

We thank you for your business and wish you a happy, prosperous year during 1917.

The entente note demands among other things that all Greek forces outside of Peloponnes be reduced to a number strictly necessary to the preservation of order; that all meeting of reservists in Greece north of the isthmus of Corinth be prohibited; that all persons detained for high treason or for other political reasons be released forthwith; that the commandant of the first army corps be dismissed, and that the Greek government make apologies to the allies' ministers.

SECRETARY TUMULTY SAYS THAT "LEAK" CHARGES ARE TOTALLY UNFOUNDED

JOSEPH P. TUMULTY

Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson; R. W. Bolling, Mrs. Wilson's brother; Otto H. Kahn and others denied knowing in advance that the president was about to send a peace note to Europe, and profiting in Wall street by the knowledge.

Secretary Tumulty was the first to assail Representative Wood of Indiana "for mentioning my name merely on hearsay and rumor." His statement in part follows:

"I am very glad to say publicly that I did not know of the existence of the president's note on peace until the newspaper were informed.

"Very frequently the president, who knows that I am bombarded by newspaper men and others for information saves me embarrassment by keeping matters absolutely secret. In fact, I have often suggested that this be done.

"I think Mr. Wood owes me a public apology for mentioning my name at all merely on hearsay and rumor."

After reading Mr. Wood's testimony Secretary Tumulty issued a second statement in which he said:

"All I have to say is that as a gentleman no less than a representative in congress Mr. Wood owes me a public apology."

Alford Plan Knocked Out.

Columbus, Jan. 10.—Presiding Judge Rathmell of the Franklin county common pleas court handed down a decision formally rejecting the Alford-Burdick plan of flood protection for Columbus. This plan contemplated the expenditure of $11,000,000 for retaining basins and dams and was contingent upon the co-operation of adjacent counties through the creation of a conservancy district, wherein the costs and benefits were to have been shared on a pro-rata basis. The court holds the plan financially unfeasible.

WARNES TAX LAW IN FORCE

Parrett-Whittemore Law Held Unconstitutional.

SUPREME COURT'S DECISION

Great Number of Sections of Parrett Act Offend Against the Constitution and Nullify the Entire Measure. Warnes Law Also Has Fatal Defects—Taxation Question to Be Fought Over Again in Assembly.

Columbus, Jan. 10.—The Ohio supreme court rendered a decision holding unconstitutional the Parrett-Whittemore taxation law, which was framed to repeal the Warnes tax act. Advocates of the Warnes law, however, have little cause to jollify over its restoration. It will die the same death, of the same ailment, as its successor, the moment anybody attacks it in the courts.

All of which means that the taxation question will be fought over again in the legislature, a thing not anticipated by the leaders of either political party. It is likely an attempt will be made to draft a non-partisan measure for early introduction in the general assembly. In order to be effective this year it will have to be declared an emergency measure, so as to avoid the ninety-day referendum period. An emergency measure requires two-thirds vote to enact.

Repeal of the Parrett-Whittemore law, under which assessments were made last summer, will not disturb the present duplicate. Property owners will pay taxes on valuations made by the de facto officers with valid duties.

The court found the Parrett-Whittemore law unconstitutional for reasons too numerous to mention. Because of the great number of sections which offend against the constitution are a fundamental and essential part of the measure, without which the remaining sections would be meaningless and provide no systematic plan or method of taxation, and because without these sections the general assembly would not have passed the act the entire law is declared unconstitutional.

One reason is that the members of the board of revision are county officers, and the law provides for their appointment instead of election, as required by section 1, article 10, of the constitution.

In the second place, the office of the township assessor is a township office, and, therefore, elective. The Parrett-Whittemore law provides for their election, but further provides for the appointment of assistant assessors, who shall have the same duties, the same authority as the elected assessors but be entirely independent of them. They, therefore, are township officers and must be elected.

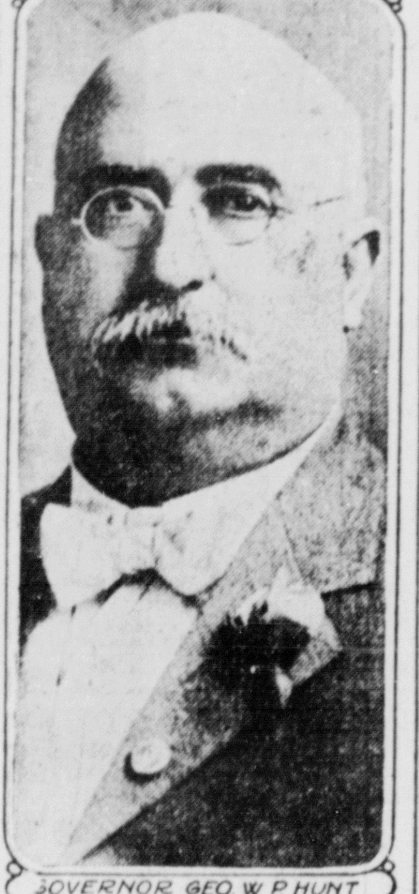

Perhaps the most striking defect of the Parrett-Whittemore law is that it provides for the election of assessors and ascribed to them duties set forth in sections of the Warnes law, which had been repealed by the Parrett-Whittemore law. Similarly, it ascribes to the county auditor tax duties defined in the repealed Warnes law as those of the district board of assessors. These provisions violate section 16, article II, of the constitution, requiring that "no law shall be revived or amended, unless the new act shall contain the entire act revived or the section or sections amended."

SUBSTITUTE VOTED DOWN

Dry Measure Put Through By a Vote of 55 to 32, Senators Pomerene and Harding Voting Against It—Neither Vote on Substitute Not on Passage of Bill Is On Party Lines—Improbability for Personal Use Permitted.

Washington, Jan. 10.—By a vote of 55 to 32, the Sheppard bill, which would make the national capital dry next November, passed the senate.

After the loss of the Underwood substitute providing for a referendum vote on the prohibition question here, the passage of the measure was assured. The bill will go to the house, where the final fight of the anti-prohibitionists will be staged.

The vote in the senate was 55 to 32. While the measure prohibits the sale of liquor in the District of Columbia, it permits importation for personal use.

Senators Pomerene and Harding of Ohio both voted against the passage of the measure. Neither the vote on the referendum amendment nor that on the passage of the bill was on party lines. There were twenty-six Democrats and seven Republicans voting for the referendum and twenty-two Democrats and twenty-one Republicans voting against it. Most of the Republicans of the so-called progressive group voted against it. For the bill itself there were twenty-eight Democrats and twenty-seven Republican votes, with twenty-two Democrats and ten Republicans against it. All the Progressives voted for passage.

to keep a record of the shipper and consignee, who must make affidavit that they are for personal use. The law declares that no property rights shall exist in alcoholic liquors illegally manufactured or brought into the district, and makes every place that violates the law a "common nuisance" and gives the right to any citizen to enjoin such nuisance.

Heavy penalties are provided for violation, including a provision aimed at physicians who prescribe liquor for patients without cause. A right to sue for damages from the person who sells liquor to a person who is injured "in person or property" in consequence of intoxication, is given to blood relatives.

SUFFS STRIKE BACK AT THE PRESIDENT

Place Silent Sentinels Around White House Grounds.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Sharply rebuking the big delegation of women who presented him with petitions for his support of the proposed constitutional amendment, granting women the vote, President Wilson told the women that he would not change his attitude toward nation-wide universal suffrage until the Democratic party changed its position, as he was the head of the party. The president added that he believed personally in the cause.

The women announced plans for retaliation by picketing the White House grounds with silent sentinels. Their purpose is to make it impossible for the president to enter or leave the White House without encountering a sentinel bearing some device pleading the suffrage cause. The move was acknowledged to be a step in the new policy of mild militancy, which began with the coup in the house gallery on Dec. 6, when a party of suffragists unfurled a votes for women banner while the president was making his opening address.

SUNSHINE AND SEABREEZES PRESCRIBED

I a unique invitation to the public to enroll for its Florida-Cuba Tour, Jan. 15-30, the Ohio Travel Society, which was organized for the purpose of encouraging and aiding Ohio citizens to experience the social, civic and educational benefits of travel, advances this appealing argument, "Sunshine and sea-breezes are cheaper and better than medicine. Take this trip. It will give you a firmer grip upon health and spirits. It will put you in shape to make the New Year prove prosperous. No worry. Everything arranged for you. High class service. Leading hotels. Selected sight-seeing. Twice as much in half the time and at half the regular cost. No extras. Advertised cost includes everything. For particulars address T. P. Riddle, Secretary, Lima, O." A little of the old fashioned January weather would make this "sunshine and sea-breeze" prescription tempting. Adv.
